ABOUT US

Chatzigavriil Salvage & Towage is a maritime company and shipping services provider specializing in port towage, offshore towage, vessel salvage, and marine rescue operations. Established in 1993 in Alexandroupolis, Greece, the company is family-owned and operates with a long-standing presence in the maritime and shipping industry, placing the protection of human life, the marine environment, and maritime property at the center of its activities.

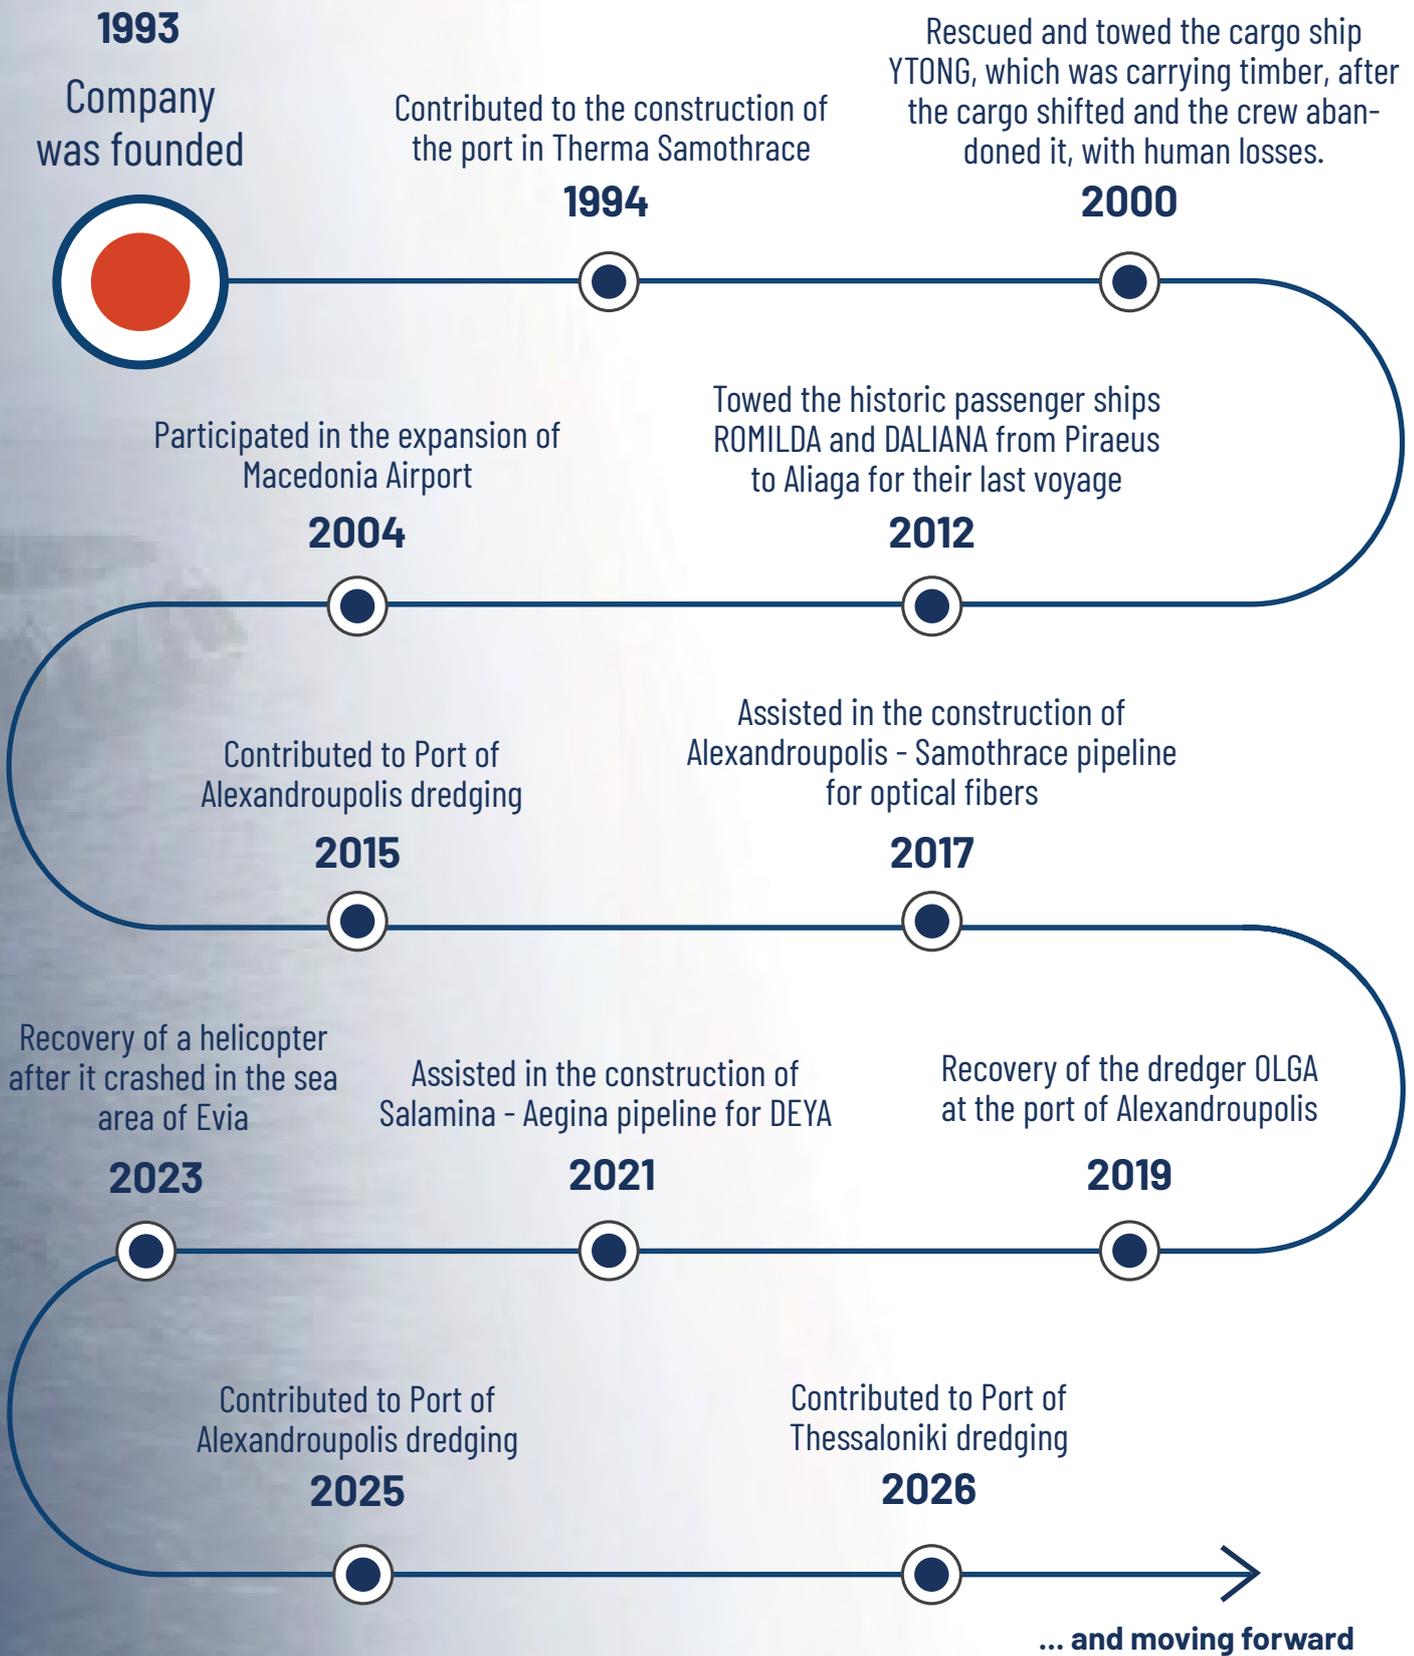

Headquartered in Alexandroupolis Port, Chatzigavriil provides exclusive port services and harbor towage for commercial vessels, tankers, bulk carriers, and offshore units. The company offers a full spectrum of marine services, including mooring and crew boats, supply vessels, professional diving services, antipollution and oil spill response equipment, as well as shipping agency services, supporting safe and efficient port operations. Beyond the port area, Chatzigavriil undertakes offshore towage and vessel salvage services throughout the Aegean Sea, Black Sea, and the Mediterranean Sea, responding to both routine towage requirements and maritime emergencies

Chatzigavriil Salvage & Towage is recognized for its maritime expertise, modern fleet, and highly trained personnel, enabling rapid and effective response to salvage and towage operations. The company's operations office functions 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, ensuring continuous availability for emergency towage, marine salvage, and port operations. Through ongoing investment in its fleet and workforce, Chatzigavriil maintains a strong position as a reliable maritime services company, capable of delivering professional assistance whenever required.
